Say hello to —

A woman with her hair in a bun, wearing a yellow bikini, is walking barefoot on a wooden deck. She is facing away from the camera, looking towards a calm pond. The pond is surrounded by dense, lush green tropical vegetation. In the background, a modern building is visible through the trees. The sky is blue with a few birds flying. In the foreground, on the left, there is a wicker lounge chair with white cushions and a small table with a glass of water and some fruit. The word "TROPICAL" is written in large, gold, serif capital letters across the middle of the image.

TROPICAL

Tropical Forest Products is a team of passionate people who love everything about forests and their survival. We know that adding value to the world's most renewable resource protects them from conversion to non-forest use, such as agriculture and cattle ranching. That's why not only do we support environmental initiatives, we also set our very own actions.

This commitment for setting the highest possible standards of practice is reflected in our We Are Tropical (Corporate) Black Label (Quality) and Legal Lumber (Due Care Compliance) Branding.

SUSTAINING FORESTS & SUPPORTING COMMUNITIES

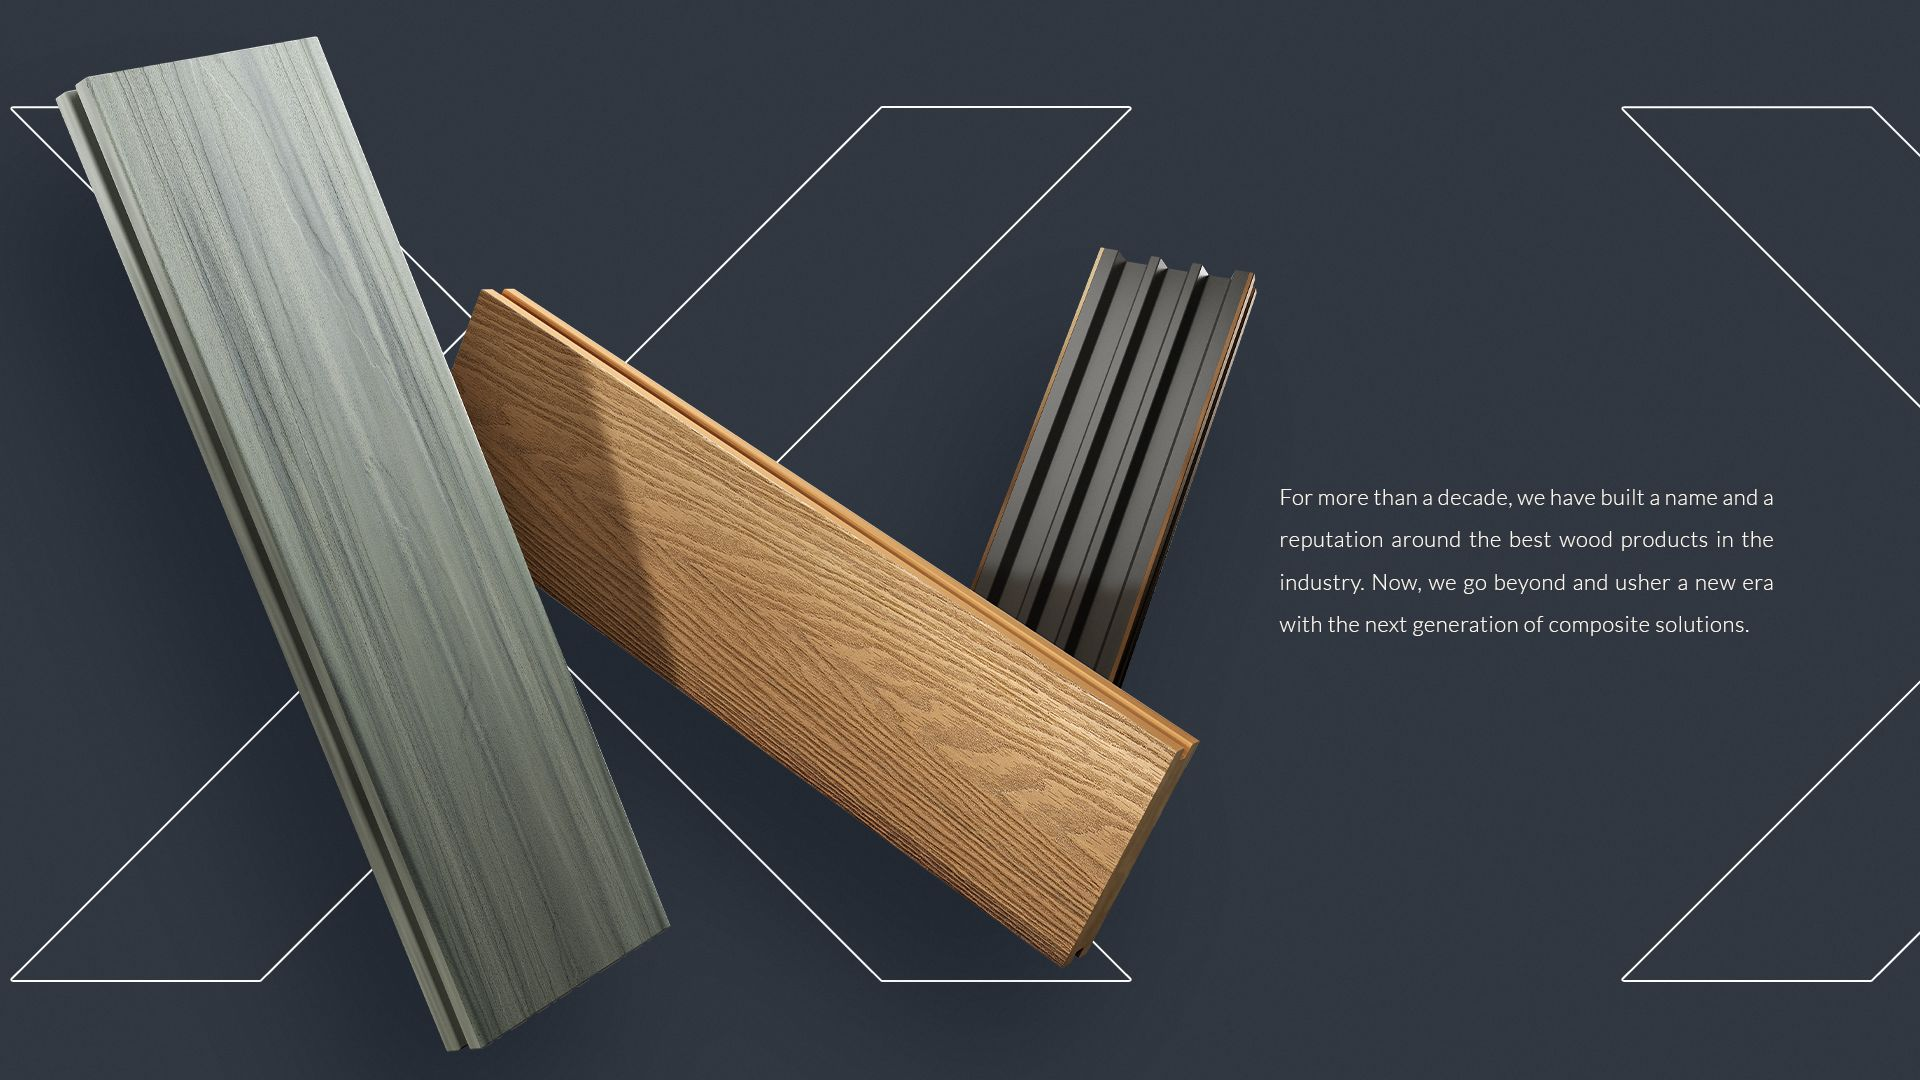

We love what we do. And one way to show it is by supporting the protection of forests and the communities that depend on them. That's why we established the Legal Lumber™ Due Care Compliance Program. An industry leading policy to verify timber legality through chain of custody auditing from forest floor to your door, along with promoting the environmental benefits of wood and supporting the efforts of other organizations and laws committed to sustainability and the protection of human rights. The health of well managed forests and their benefit to the global community by adding value to our renewable resources cannot be overstated.
