

GrandReserve
LIMITED EXOTIC LUMBER

Ziricote

Ziricote is the most dramatic member of the Cordia genus and stands apart from other exotic woods due to its unique grain lines. Prized locally, this rare, desired species is only found in a small portion of Central America on the Caribbean coast. Beautiful spider-webbing is present with amazing patterns. The variegated stripes produce valleys, plateaus, and mountains that make a stunning landscape figure and will turn to an extremely high glass-like polish.

In Stock:
52 mm live edge slabs

Scientific Name:
Cordia dodecandra

Applications:
Carvings, furniture, guitars, handles for knives

Origin:
Central America

Grand Reserve is Tropical Forest Products' most exclusive collection of rare wood. Contact your TFP Sales Representative to learn more about the Grand Reserve collection and to place your order.

tropicalforestproducts.com

Primary Office: (855) 344-4500 While inventory lasts.

TROPICAL
Forest Products